Be a part of the PATHWAY TO GREATNESS IN TENNIS!

The USTA Pro Circuit, the largest developmental tennis circuit in the world, is the pathway to the US Open, the French Open and tour-level competition for aspiring tennis players and a frequent battleground for established professionals. The USTA launched its Pro Circuit in 1979 to provide players with an opportunity to gain the professional ranking points they need to compete on the major pro tours, and it has since grown to approximately 100 tournaments hosted annually throughout the United States, offering nearly $3.5 million in prize money. Many of today's top women and men competing on the WTA and ATP World Tour started their professional tennis careers by playing on the USTA Pro Circuit, including Sam Querrey or Angelique Kerber and Andy Murray, who were ranked No. 1 in the world in 2017!

Special events during the tournament such as KIDS' DAY MAKE FOR A SPECIAL EVENT!

For many children, attending a Kids' Day event at a USTA Pro Circuit tournament is their first exposure to tennis. Kids' Days not only help introduce children to tennis but make for some great memories.
